About Global Coffee Platform

The Global Coffee Platform (GCP) is a multi-stakeholder platform that enables the coffee sector's journey towards sustainability. GCP improves the livelihoods, ecosystems and resilience of coffee farming communities and the sector as a whole by enabling producers, roasters, governments, traders, and NGOs to align and multiply their efforts and investments; collectively act on local priorities and critical issues; and grow sustainability initiatives across the coffee world.

GCP convenes public and private sector stakeholders to create a common understanding on the most critical sustainability challenges at a producing country level, and to strengthen public-private collaborations through national coffee platforms that feed national priorities into a global agenda. GCP offers its members the opportunity to engage in national and global agendas through action-oriented programs. Together, GCP Members work on changing their business practices to be in line with the GCP Baseline, a global reference code for sustainable coffee production and processing, as well as committing to report on progress towards sustainability.
