

Deputy Campaign Director

Description

About Canopy

Canopy is an award-winning not-for-profit organization dedicated to protecting the world's forests, species, and climate. Trees over 800 years old do not need to be cut down to make packaging, t-shirts, or junk mail – and Canopy is committed to doing all they can to keep them standing.

Canopy collaborates with more than 800 companies globally to implement robust environmental policies, catalyze innovative solutions, transform unsustainable supply chains, secure forest conservation, and advance community rights. Initially best known for greening the Harry Potter series internationally, Canopy now works with partners including Stella McCartney, The Guardian, The GAP, Sainsbury's, Penguin Random House, LVMH, Ben & Jerry's and H&M to transform the environmental impacts of a range of sectors. Canopy's work relies on the support of individual donors and institutions who share their passion for the planet.

The team at Canopy loves chocolate and playing charades. Working hard is in their DNA – as is having fun and being creative. Pragmatic and audacious, the Canopy team is driven to produce results at a scale proportionate to the environmental problems our world is grappling with. Canopy is part of the growing movement that believes "Nature Needs Half" – a science-driven initiative that recommends 30-50% of the world's forests be protected by 2030, to ensure forest ecosystems can fulfill the ecological functions and services we need for life on Earth.
