Senior Strategic Communications Specialist

Description

The World YWCA has an ambitious goal: to reach 100 million young women and girls transform power structures to end gender inequality by 2035. As Strategic Communications Specialist, you will articulate the brand and voice of the global movement. Your ability to create compelling communications will engage donors, partners and members, and help the global YWCA movement grow.

About The World YWCA

The World YWCA has an ambitious goal: to reach 100 million young women and girls transform power structures to end gender inequality by 2035.

Established in 1855, the World YWCA is the world's oldest women's movement. With member associations in 109 countries, it works to fulfil human rights and make gender equality a reality. The World YWCA a learning organization in which there is recognized mentorship across generations. Sixty percent of the members of the World Board are aged 30 and under.

The World YWCA mobilizes and connects millions of young women around transformational change, provides leadership opportunities. It also actively works to influence policies, regulations and social and community norms which prevent the realisation of rights and leadership potential of women, doing this by creating opportunities for young women advocates at global and regional policy-setting platforms such as the African Union, the Commission on the Status of Women and the Human Rights Council.

Through its member associations around the world, the World YWCA strives to provide safe, inclusive, non-judgmental and confidential spaces for women and girls to discuss issues such as Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights, HIV, and violence.

The World YWCA has three strategic priorities:

1. Strengthening young women's and girls' transformative leadership
2. Realising human rights, in particular sexual and reproductive health and rights
3. Growing a social movement for transformational change
